Megan Chickering

I've never been completely obsessed with something but I do have my life revolve around softball during the summer. Its not an obsession but just a hobby that takes up a lot of my time.

They may be afraid of what he may do if they don't go. The captain is all they know all the time so it may just be the easier way.

I Believe they have respect for that person. Even if they are crazy. To ~~be~~ them they have some sort of reasoning behind them.

- Have you ever been Obsessed about something?

Yes, i'm obsessed with music. It seems kind of stupid but I really am. Anytime I get money I download music. I listen to music all the time whether it's when I wake up, go to bed, or get ready. I listen to hip hop, Rap, R&B, & some rock. I also have this fantasy of being a D.J., but I don't think that's going to happen.

- Why do rational people follow irrational leaders?

I honestly don't know why that is. Maybe the people are afraid of the leader because the leader has a lot of power. The people could also be push-overs & just agree with whatever.
